Dear Congressman Fogarty,

Recently I read in a local paper that you headed a House Appropriations Sub-Committee on Krebiozen. I was disappointed to read that Dr. Heller of the NCI refuses to go along with Dr. Ivy's double blind test with himself as a member of a three man arbitration committee.

Having personally read most of the 5,000 page Illinois Congressional Investigation, I cannot blame Dr. Ivy for his stand. From this report and the subsequent Fitzgerald Report (which was covered up by the AMA's political machine) it was definitely revealed that the AMA falsified their so called Status Report on Krebiozen in 1951. Dr. Ivy feels that if the same thing happens again Krebiozen will be killed forever.

It is highly important that Dr. Ivy conduct the testing in at least an advisory manner and be on the committee that evaluates the results obtained. In this way the AMA cannot use their beguile political methods to kill the drug which appears to be the possible cure for cancer.

I speak this way because I know the drug is beneficial in the treatment of cancer. My own mother and a close friend of the family was treated with Krebiozen while in a terminal stage, and the results obtained were astonishing. Dr. Ivy is a noted and world renowned scientist who has dedicated himself to the field of medicine. Perhaps, because of his past record and achievements in the field of medicine this faction is jealous to the point that are sacrificing human lives and suffering for their own professional hatred.

Personally, I have no prejudice against the medical profession, as I have three cousins, all MD's, and my late uncle was the past President of the Colorado State Board of Medical Examiners. In addition to this honor he was named a Commodore and won the Star of Italy from the King of Italy for his outstanding contributions to the field of medicine in the United States. Aside from this issue I am no way anti-AMA.

I believe that Dr. Ivy, a noted scientist, has been ridiculed and scoffed by a group of men (AMA Directors) who are non-practicing medical doctors, insanely jealous of research men in medicine.

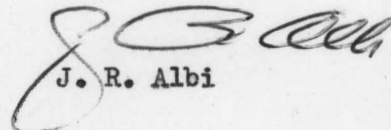

What has further incensed me was the biased statement of Dr. Shannon of the NCI, "There are many cancer victims who thoroughly believe there is an answer in Krebiozen, and I think Dr. Heller should be given an opportunity to put the issue at REST." Note the word rest, and not test was used. Already displaying their non-confidence in Krebiozen, these men want Dr. Ivy to turn over to them a drug which they already condemn and for what appears to be another rigged test similar to that of the AMA's 1951 Status Report.

This same attitude prevails in the ACS also, as evidenced by the statement of Mefford R. Runyon, executive vice-president of the ACS, stating that Dr. Ivy's double blind test would not be acceptable to the scientific community because he had, "a 50-50 chance of being right". Imagine, the insane bias and jealousy of a man who disregards one human life being saved because the method of testing has a 50-50 chance of proving the advocate of a drug right or wrong! For these reasons Dr. Ivy refuses to walk into what appears another rigged test that would kill the drug forever.

Personally, I have no ax to grind and nothing to gain in viewing my opinion. I am a college graduate with a BS degree from Regis College (a Jesuit College), president of the board of directors of three local corporations which employ over 115 people and have total assets valued over $500,000. In the service I was given a direct appointment from an enlisted status for outstanding achievements. I am a respected business man and am active in civic and community affairs. I am very open minded and after following the Krebiozen incident closely I cannot help but feel that this is the best answer to cancer that has been found.

Please give Dr. Ivy a fair chance to prove the drug's worth!

Very truly yours,

J. R. Albi
